TUESDAY 10TH MARCH 2020

Hear from experts and top speakers about the psychological, cultural and leadership factors that have become critical to sustained performance in today's rapidly changing world.

.....

Hosted at Lord's, the home of cricket. Coffee will be served from 9am, the Showcase will open at 10am and close at 4pm.

A buffet lunch, as well as mid-morning and afternoon refreshment breaks are included.

Please note that the dress code at Lord's is smart attire, jackets and ties for gentlemen. Jeans and trainers are not permitted.

Helen Glover MBE was one of the most prominent sporting stars to emerge from the 2012 Olympic Games, typifying the ideal that hard work breeds success. Now a two time Olympic champion, triple World champion, quintuple World Cup champion and triple European champion, she has been described by GB rowing coaches as a 'once in a generation athlete'.

Iain Hennessey is a consultant paediatric surgeon and director of innovation at the new Alder Hey Children's Health Park. He is responsible for finding and developing the healthcare technologies of the future, and in 2017 was presented with a gold award for his pioneering leadership of innovation.

Dr Neslyn Watson-Druée CBE is an acclaimed executive coach, author and keynote speaker on the topic of Leadership. Her expertise has been sought by business, the Government, NHS, education and voluntary sectors. As the Chairman of NHS Kingston, she managed to turn around a £21.5 million deficit in two years and finish with a £5 million surplus.

Andrew Steele spent over 12 years as an Olympic athlete competing in the 400 metres and 4x400 metre relay for Team GB, winning a bronze medal in Beijing 2008. In 2013 he joined the leadership team of personal genetics company DNAfit, helping everybody understand the genetic factors behind fitness and nutrition.

Professor Elaine Fox is a psychologist and neuroscientist at Oxford. After 25 years of research into the science of emotions, Elaine has discovered what is common to people who feel successful and fulfilled: an agility in how they feel and act. She is currently working on a new publication “Switchcraft” which will explore the science of mental agility.

Kate Cook is a nutrition and wellness expert, author and founder of The Nutrition Coach Clinic. With nearly 20 years’ experience Kate is in high demand with progressive organisations that have realised that a healthy workforce means a healthy and potentially profitable business.
